Machine Learning in Medicine - Cookbook

By Cleophas, Ton J. M. / Zwinderman, Aeilko H.

Condition: New. Publisher/Verlag: Springer, Berlin | This timely guide explains how to derive the most benefit from automatically mining the vast, and growing, quantities of information in medical databases. It lays out the fruits of the authors' expertise in a condensed, easily consulted format. | The amount of data in medical databases doubles every 20 months, and physicians are at a loss to analyze them. Also, traditional methods of data analysis have difficulty to identify outliers and patterns in big data and data with multiple exposure / outcome variables and analysis-rules for surveys and questionnaires, currently common methods of data collection, are, essentially, missing. Obviously, it is time that medical and health professionals mastered their reluctance to use machine learning and the current 100 page cookbook should be helpful to that aim. It covers in a condensed form the subjects reviewed in the 750 page three volume textbook by the same authors, entitled "Machine Learning in Medicine I-III" (ed. by Springer, Heidelberg, Germany, 2013) and was written as a hand-held presentation and must-read publication. It was written not only to investigators and students in the fields, but also to jaded clinicians new to the methods and lacking time to read the...
