Excerpt from Rate Limitation and the General Property Tax in Ohio: A Thesis Presented for the Degree of Master of Arts in the Graduate School at the Ohio State University The provisions made for the administration of the general property tax in Ohio have resulted in substantial injustice to some of the citizens of the state and in general dissatisfaction among all of them. If this paper brings to any man a better understanding of the difficulties involved in the proper administration of the tax laws and assists in pointing out a way toward the fairer distribution of the tax burdens of the state its preparation will not have been amiss.
