

The Flights of the Bellydwellers

By Bobbie Barton

AuthorHouse. Paperback. Condition: New. 312 pages. Dimensions: 9.0in. x 6.0in. x 0.8in. In this sequel to AWAKENED BELLYDWELLERS the spaceship Columbia follows the spaceship Americus into the macrocosm searching for unspoiled habitable planets. Both hunts are successful. During the journey Captain of the Columbia, Justin Clark, rekindles his off-and-on romantic involvement with Dr. Millie Nelson. Phillip Baxter, ex-President of the United States of America and his wife, Denise, join the pioneers in their endeavor. His daughter Evelyn and her spouse, Bart, had previously set out to resettle a new world. During the journey of the Columbia Denise bears a son. This is the account of the progress made in developing new societies far from the devastation the space pioneers left behind. As quickly as he can after offloading his passengers on their new world Justin Clark races back to the Planet Earth only to find his military talents are not required. Five space ships had left the newfound planet Alpha Blue after quickly depositing the first Bellydwellers who left the planet Earth aboard the Americus to settle on a new world. They find a sparsely populated environment and go about the task of revitalizing their home planet. One of the ships...
