A PHYSICISTS LABOURS IN WAR AND PEACE

Createspace, United States, 2014. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .M-Y Books is proud to announce the re-publication of the autobiography of distinguished Physicist E Walter Kellerman. Now in its second Print run we have enclosed below some of the reviews so far received from around the world. This book is of interest to historians of science and to scientists as well as to the general reader. Historians will be interested in the author's revealing view of the British pre war university system, the establishment of Theoretical Physics as a new discipline in Britain and his commitment to preserve science during the funding battles of the Thatcher years. Physicists will find a clear introduction to the research into one of the greatest puzzles in astrophysics namely the enormous energies created in our cosmos manifested by [Auger's discovery] of the Grandes Gerbes , the showers of particles currently incident on the earth now investigated by a major international cooperation. The book is a great combination of autobiography and history of the sciences during a long and exciting period of History (Stefan Sienell, Austrian Academy of Sciences), A very important source of reference (Professor John Dainton, Liverpool University). The book has authority and relevance (Jeff Hughes, Manchester University), Perceptive assessments of contemporary events (Geoffrey Cantor, Professor of the History of Science, Leeds University). His research in Edinburgh with the future Nobel Laureate Max Born, one of the giants of Theoretical Physics, led to a breakthrough in solid-state physics. In Manchester he worked with Patrick Blackett, also a future Nobel Laureate, measuring Extensive Air Showers . These are sprays of particles, which fall on the earth generated by nuclear particles from the cosmos. Later in Leeds...
