The Committee's findings and conclusions concerning abuses in intelligence activity and weaknesses in the system of accountability and control are amply documented. I believe they make a compelling case for substantial reform. The recommendations section of this volume sets forth in detail the Committee's proposals for reforms necessary to protect the right of Americans. The facts revealed by the Committee's inquiry into the development of domestic intelligence activity are outlined in the balance of the volume. I would add one principal comment on the results of the Committee's inquiry: The root cause of the excesses...
