BROADWAY GENERATIONS

Butterfly Press. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 320 pages. Dimensions: 9.9in. x 7.0in. x 0.7in. In Marie (Broadway) Toms second family heritage book Broadway Generations, she brings a spirit of celebration and honor to the family. She traces the footprints of early Arkansan settler Grandpa Oliver back two more steps to Grandpa Oliver's grandfather James Broadaway, a slave born in North Carolina. The trail leads all the way back to the plantation and slave owner that ancestor James and his family belonged to as property. Also, featured on the Broadway Generations books cover is a painting by Danny Broadway, celebrated Memphis artist, of the great Broadway and Clark wagon train journey. Mrs. Toms along with a group of dedicated Broadway family committee members took on the monumental task of sifting through hundreds of records, obituaries, elder interviews and more to confirm a Broadway family history almost lost. For your enjoyment, the 320 page book is divided into sections called Generations for easy reading. Inside you will discover: Generation Spotlight including the already popular Solving the Broadaway Mystery by Eugene Broadway, A Prayer for the Broadways by Mary Booker and A Trip to Anson County by Dennis J. Turner. Generation Memories containing 32 stories out of the 95 stories dispersed throughout the book. The stories submitted from Broadway family members all over the world are sure to entertain and make you laugh out loud. Generation Profiles including 40 profiles, pictures and stories about elder family members submitted with affection from their children and grandchildren. Generation Tree with a 9 generational family tree starting with Grandpa James Broadway extending to his (6x)grand-children reveals hundreds of Broadway family units and thousands of individual family members. Generation Honor highlights the decorated and honorable Broadway family military professionals as well as the many education and entrepreneurial...
