And this in a country where grapes have grown since the memory of man runneth not to the contrary, and where, of later years, their widespread intensive cultivation has constituted an industry of vast proportions; where the grape, long misunderstood by temperance enthusiasts, may at last stand vindicated on its own merits. Long years before Christopher Columbus gazed in wonder at the dim light which yet was to glow into a flaming torch of freedom, the hardy Norsemen who had braved the wild Atlantic and become more or less familiar with these shores, called this country Vineland, because of the great abundance of wild grapes they found here.
