The tramways are under municipal management, as also are the extensive markets, 19 sets of public baths, hospitals, and allotments. The open spaces maintained by the Corporation consist of 25 parks and recreation grounds, of which the largest, Roundhay Park, covers an area of over 750 acres. The following Table shows the growth of population since 1851: --It will be seen that the rate of growth has steadily diminished since the decade 1861-71. During the last decade the rate of increase was 16 7 per cent., as compared with 12 2 per cent, for England and Wales. The density of population at the Census of 1901 was 20 persons per acre, the area within the boundaries of the Borough being 21,596 acres. Since the fourteenth century Leeds has been known as a seat of woollen manufacture; and woollen and worsted spinning and weaving, dyeing, and bleaching, c., gave employment to nearly 14,000 persons, at the Census of 1901. Another very important trade in the city is the production of ready-made clothing. Whilst the tendency has been for the spinning and weaving industry to leave Leeds and to settle in other Yorkshire towns, the factory system of the clothing manufacture has greatly developed, and Leeds has become a very important seat of this industry. In this business, as in the other textile trades, a large majority of the...
