Excerpt: . . . his own consent, when, by section 640 of the Code, every Court of criminal jurisdiction is given power to try, without his consent, any offender in any county wherein he is arrested or. in custody, for any offence wherever committed, provided it was committed within the province where the Court sits. Moreover, the statute law of England affords a number of instances in which Justices of the Peace were given powers, under certain circumstances, not only to try offences committed without the limits of their-country, but to exercise judicial functions while sitting in some other country than that for which they were appointed. See 3 Burns Justice, 13th ed. , pp. 124128. For these reasons we think the prisoner is not entitled to be discharged. . Matter referred back to Harrington, . J, with the advice to refuse the discharge of the prisoner. Note: Summary trial--Territorial ju-risdiction--Cr. Code (1906), sec. 771. p Part XVI. of the Criminal Code (1906) confers a limited jurisdiction of summary trial of certain indictable offences. | This jurisdiction is to be exercised by a magistrate as defined by sec. 771. That section declares that a magistrate under Part XVI. means and includes: -- (i) In the Provinces of Ontario, Quebec and Manitoba, any recorder, Judge of a County Court if a justice of the peace, commissioner of police, Judge of the sessions of the peace, and police magistrate, district magistrate, or other functionary or tribunal, invested by the proper...
