CHILD WELFARE IN NEW JERSEY, VOL. 4: LOCAL PROVISION FOR DEPENDENT AND DELINQUENT CHILDREN IN RELATION TO THE STATE S PROGRAM (CLASSIC REPRINT) (PAPERBACK)

Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Child Welfare in New Jersey, Vol. 4: Local Provision for Dependent and Delinquent Children in Relation to the State s Program The Newark overseer of the poor heads a department of poor and alms, which employs a considerable staff of district visitors and investigators. A few of the visitors and investigators have had special training or long experience in Soc1al work. Standards of service, particularly in the field Of cooperation with the many other social agencies in the city, might be improved. The city almshouse at East Orange is one of the best in the State. Most communities in the county have one or more local social agencies. At least 50 social agencies are at work in the county institutions for dependent children, institutions for delinquents, several children s aid organizations, settlements, day nurseries, and agencies doing some family-relief work, in addition to fraternal organizations and churches which give aid to their members. These var10us agencies provide facilities for meeting nearly every form of need. Some parts Of the field, however, are incompletely covered, and there is overlapping in other parts. The step most needed appears to be the formation of a county Organization whereb all these agencies, both public and private, may Cooperate in a stu y Of local needs and in the development of a complete county social service program.
