Forgotten Books, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from The Ohio State University Quarterly, Vol. 3: July, 1911 The second text is a quotation from the one just referred to and is valuable not simply for the content of the words but has a new value by reason of the fact that it was the answer Jesus made in the hour of temptation when worn and wearied with the fasting of forty days. He was tempted to use the power of God to prove his own Sonship and to put the emphasis upon the physical or material side of life. To this temptation He did not yield, but gave an added emphasis to the old doctrine that man should not live by bread alone, but by every word proceeding from the mouth of God. The third text occurs in the midst of the ordinary teaching of Jesus in a chapter where he is putting the emphasis upon Himself as a leader, a good Shepherd who gave his life for the sheep. He is suggesting very clearly that He was the door through which men were to enter into the larger life. By me if any man enter in he shall be saved and shall go in and out and find pasture. This is quite in accord with the teaching elsewhere that He was the life and light which lighteth every man that cometh into the world. A review of these passages and experiences will suggest the universal experience of men everywhere. It is so easy to put the emphasis upon the material things and so difficult to make an appeal from extreme physical need. It is so easy to see the naturalness of the human desire and human ambition...
