Horace Davis, of California, in the House of Representatives, June 8, 1878 In the city of San Francisco, my own home, this Opposition is most keenly felt, as the body of Chinese is larger there t an at any other point in the United States; and many thousands of unemployed men say with great bitterness that but for their presence work and bread would be plenty. For months past life and property have been threatened by this agitation, and to the wisdom of Congress we ap peal to grant us that quiet and relief which our own Legislature has no power to give us.
