

Art and Education in an Innovation Economy

By Professor John Eger

GRIN Verlag GmbH. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 84 pages. Dimensions: 8.3in. x 5.8in. x 0.4in. Essay from the year 2011 in the subject Art - Overall Considerations, grade: -, San Diego State University, language: English, comment: Art and the Innovation economy , abstract: According to Business Week Magazine: The game is changing . . . it isnt just about math and science anymore (although those are surely important disciplines) its about creativity, imagination, and, above all, innovation. 1 If creativity and innovation will be the hallmarks of the most successful communities in the 21st century we need to know the answers to the fundamental questions of what makes us creative, innovative, and imaginative. The effort to create a 21st century community is not so much about technology as it is about jobs, dollars and quality of life. It is about organizing ones community to reinvent itself for the new, knowledge economy and society; preparing its citizens to take ownership of their community; and, most importantly, about educating the next generation of leaders and workers to meet the global, social, political and economic challenges we face. This commentary focuses on education and the vital role of the arts in preparing our...

READ ONLINE
[6.46 MB]

Reviews

This is the finest ebook i have got read through till now. It really is full of wisdom and knowledge You wont sense monotony at anytime of the time (that's what catalogs are for relating to in the event you ask me).

-- Mr. Edison Roberts IV

These sorts of publication is the greatest ebook accessible. I could possibly comprehended everything using this written e ebook. Your lifestyle span will likely be enhance when you total reading this ebook.

-- Treva Roberts