Donations to the World Food Program: Hearing Before the Legislation and National Security Subcommittee of the Committee on Government Operations House of Representatives One Hundred Third Congress Second Session May 5, 1994 The committee met, pursuant to notice, at 10 a.m., in room 2154, Rayburn House Office Building, Hon. John Conyers, Jr. (chairman of the subcommittee), presiding. Members present: Representatives John Conyers, Jr. and Al McCandless. Subcommittee staff present: James C. Turner, staff director; Miranda G. Katsoyannis, professional staff member; Rosalind Burke-Alexander, clerk; and Jane O. Cobb, minority professional staff. Opening Statement Of Chairman Conyers Mr. CONYERS. The Legislation and National Security Subcommittee on Government Operations will come to order. We meet to review the management problems that Diague one of the most critical humanitarian efforts supported by the United States, the World Food Program. Over the past 33 years the World Food Program has been on the front lines of disaster relief. This United Nations agency, which is our principal means of responding to man-made or natural disasters abroad, receives annually American donations of over $372 million worth of food and commodities for humanitarian relief. In 1992 alone, the World Food Program fed 42 million people and supplied $1.7 billion of food for more than 258 development projects in 90 countries. This aid represents 60 percent of all international emergency food relief. In recent years, the U.S. Government has increasingly relied upon the World Food Program to be responsible for managing the distribution of our humanitarian donations. The sound management of this program takes on a special urgency today when we confront the reality that over 200 million people are...
