Unique Australian, futuristic, science fiction action-adventure, this compelling tale incorporates elements of Aboriginal Dreamtime stories interwoven with modern technology to create a new technomythology. Alan s brother Wade is mysteriously killed and their computer lab is taken by the Government for a nominal fee. Frightened for his life, Alan runs to his aboriginal friend, Jamie, in the Northern Territory and lives with the Tribe in peace for a few years until Secret Police come looking for him. Alan runs again. This time to Sydney. Meanwhile, Wade s daughter, Sidhe, an unwitting pawn of the Gov carries on her father s research and eventually has the first bio-organic implant inserted into her brain. Surfing the Web is as easy as closing your eyes - and its wireless. Add to this a mysterious and unofficial head of the various spy networks, Three, who needs a new body for his old mind and uses Artificially Intelligent computers to assist. There is also a very nasty Secret Police Chief with some odd personal habits.
