The handsome new cotton mill of J. P. Bruner Sons was almost totally destroyed by fire on the morning of the 17th, involving a heavy loss, covered by insurance of $275,000, impartially distributed among thirty-two companies. Strangely enough, the sheriff s grip on the property had only been released the day prior, through a bond of fire indemnity. The Enterprise Fire, during the past year, exemplified its name very satisfactorily by adding considerable to its permanent invested assets, paying two dividends of four per cent, each, and coming out of the fire year of 1869 comparatively unscathed. The usual annual crop of new insurance companies have pressed their claims upon the legislature, the Guarantee and Adelphi among the number. 10 shares Enterprise, $46.50 advance; 11 shares Jefferson, $39, latest sales.
