It is not claimed that the defendant ever gave such consent. W The statute in force at the time provided that tenancies at will might be terminated by notice in writing served upon the occupant thirty days before the time fixed in said notice for the termination thereof. Law of 1853, c. 39, 1. This statute, and the one which preceded it, requiring a longer notice, enabled a landlord to terminate such a tenancy, without entry therefor, or alienation. It does not provide that such tenancies cannot be terminated in any other way. And even if this is implied in tenancies at will under the statute, such tenancies at common law may be terminated in the same manner as before. If the landlord enters on the land and cuts down the trees demised, or makes a feoffment, or a...
