Ancient Long Island Epitaphs: From the Towns of Southold, Shelter Island and Easthampton, New York (Classic Reprint) (Paperback)

By Edward Doubleday Harris

Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Ancient Long Island Epitaphs: From the Towns of Southold, Shelter Island and Easthampton, New York It has been impossible in these pages to accurately represent the styles of lettering in use during the period covered by the epitaphs. No attempt has been made to indicate the logotypes or composite letters which were common on the older stones, and which are, in some cases, of much interest arch-geologically. The arrangement in lines as found upon the stones has been generally observed, while the use of capitals, italics, and of superior letters has been always carefully followed. Worthy of special notice are a few stones in the old ground of Southold Village, lying horizontally, about six feet in length, portions of whose inscriptions form a border at the edges of the four sides, an extremely unusual feature in this country (see pp. 7, 8 and But two examples of the use of coat armor on original stones occur in any of the grounds under present consideration; both in Shelter Island, and upon the tombs of the Sylvesters and Deerings. Innumerable family burying grounds...
