Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Report of a Joint Committee: Representing the National Educational Association, the American Philological Association, and the Modern Language Association of America, on the Subject of a Phonetic English Alphabet But of course precision is a relative term. According to the purpose in view time may be measured precisely enough by years, by hours, or by fractions of a second. So in respect to the graphic representation of speech-sounds, the degree of precision to be desired will depend on the use that is to be made of the proposed notation. The humble needs of the newspaper-reader, and after a fashion those of the dialect-poet, are fairly well met by the alphabet as it stands; but the maker or user of a dictionary needs a finer instrument, and the author of a treatise on phonetics a still finer one. If we take into account all the little variations due to national speech-habit, dialectic tendency, personal idiosyncrasy, degree of stress, proximity of other sounds, etc., we shall see that the number of sounds producible by the vocal organs is beyond computation. And...
