In Germany the meanest day labourer is keenly alive not only to the broad features of his common school system, but also to the details of the work going on inside the school walls themselves. He knows intimately the precise nature of the daily instruction his children are receiving; and by his personal and active interest stimulates all associated with the school to a vigilance and industry that must beneficially affect the nature of the work achieved. So it is in Switzerland, in Denmark, in Norway, in Sweden, in the United States, and indeed in most of the civilised countries save our own. National education flourishes in an atmosphere of natural sympathy and concern. With us it still languishes in the shade of public disregard; with the result that directly any Parliamentary proposal is made to deal with it, the parsons, and the pastors, and the professional politicians take the field. The question at once becomes a question of Church versus Chapel; the school is rigidly squeezed out and the pathetic figure of the child - tomorrow s...
