

Seed Trade in Rural Markets: Implications for Crop Diversity and Agricultural Development

By C. Leigh Anderson, Leslie Lipper, Timothy J. Dalton

Taylor & Francis Ltd. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, Seed Trade in Rural Markets: Implications for Crop Diversity and Agricultural Development, C. Leigh Anderson, Leslie Lipper, Timothy J. Dalton, Markets have been found to be an increasingly important source of the seeds of crops and varieties low income farmers need to improve their livelihoods, encompassing both the formal and informal seed sector. Markets also have major impacts on agricultural biodiversity, by affecting farmers' choice of crops and varieties to grow. They are not, however, a homogenous institution, although all too frequently policies and regulations are developed as though they were. Markets vary considerably depending on the participants, on the institutions that govern how and what they exchange, and on local agricultural, economic and social conditions. Developing effective strategies to improve the way agricultural markets work, including how farmers use crop genetic resources, requires understanding of these variations. Seed Trade in Rural Markets presents a unique set of case studies from Bolivia, India, Kenya, Mali and Mexico on agricultural seed and product markets that describe three important market characteristics expected to affect farmers' access to seeds and varieties: the range of varieties on offer, the information provided about them, and...
