Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Sorosis, 1918, Vol. 25 The night was balmy. Gentle winds were whispering through the trees and daintly waving the tips of the branches. The slender poplar was silently turning her silver leaves in shy flirtation as she ventured sidelong glances at the gnarled oak. The elm was lulling the delicate white birch to dreams by the soft movement of her drooping boughs. Poor birch! She had had a terrible fright the day before. She had heard her first word of reproof. Therefore the elm was murmuring her most soothing lullabye. Flowers grew in profusion on the grassy sward below. The trailing morning glories had closed their trumpet heads in sleep. The lotus in the nearby silvery pool had shut her luxuriant cap. The wild roses, bashful violets, anomones and lillies all were still. Only the night blooming cereus seemed energetically wakeful, but then, she slept all day, so she would be the same as dead were her moonlit petals not wide open sometimes. There was a wonderful feeling of serenity and peace in the...
