Excerpt from The Catholic World, Vol. 87: A Monthly Magazine of General Literature and Science; April, 1908, to September, 1908 Still, this does not seem to them to destroy utterly their claim to valid ordination. They have an inner line of defense to which they can retreat; namely, that just as we acknowledge that even a Jew or an infidel may validly baptize, even though he does not believe in any. Real change effected by the act, if only he seriously intends to perform a Christian ceremony, so the Calvinist bishops, who abhorred the idea of the Mass, still might validly ordain mass-priests, by simply intending to perform Christian ordination. The ordaining Anglican bishop says Receive the Holy Ghost for the office and work of a priest in the Church of God. Even though the bishop is entirely mistaken as to what that office and work is, a High Church man might still say that the true office and work are produced by his words, just as regeneration is produced in baptism by the Jew or infidel who gives it, but does...
