

Development With A Human Face: A Major Challenge For Globalisation In the 21st Century

By G.P. Isser

2007. Hardcover. Book Condition: New. 250 Globalisation with a human face is a cliché that evokes hugely mixed responses. While the proponents argue its necessity and irreversibility in bringing global prosperity, the critics argue that it is an utterly commercial and profit seeking model with no trade of equitable development for humanity at large. The book analyses both views in detail by examining experiences of countries and regions. After exploring the challenges and opportunities for India and South Asia, it comprehensively looks at the prospect of a truly 'inclusive' Indian growth. The Indian Government's efforts towards this, in particular, are analysed in some detail. About The Author:- G.P. Isser, a former member of Indian Foreign Service (IFS) and former Ambassador of India, was engaged in Research in various aspects of Development Economics. During his diplomatic career, he served at various levels in Indian Missions abroad including Brussels, Colombo, Muscat, Rabat, Tokyo, Khartoum, etc. On the basis of his thesis on The Role of Trade in Economics Development, he was awarded a fellowship from the Indian Institute of Foreign Trade, New Delhi. His research work was also published under the same title. His last study and research work centered on the evolution...

READ ONLINE
[4.88 MB]

Reviews

This is the very best publication i actually have read until now. It really is packed with knowledge and wisdom I am happy to let you know that this is the very best publication i actually have read in my very own existence and could be he greatest pdf for ever.

-- Dr. Nelda Schuppe

Basically no terms to explain. I have read and so i am certain that i will gonna go through once again once more in the future. I realized this ebook from my dad and i encouraged this book to discover.

-- Forest Little