

Radiator (heating)

By Lambert M. Surhone

Betascript Publishers Jan 2010, 2010. Taschenbuch. Condition: Neu. Neuware - High Quality Content by WIKIPEDIA articles! Radiators and convectors are heat exchangers designed to transfer thermal energy from one medium to another for the purpose of space heating. In practice, the term 'radiator' refers to any of a number of devices in which a fluid circulates through exposed pipes (often with fins or other means of increasing surface area), notwithstanding that such devices tend to transfer heat mainly by convection and might logically be called convectors. The term 'convector' refers to a class of devices in which the source of heat is not directly exposed. As domestic safety and the supply from water heaters keeps temperatures relatively low, radiation is inefficient in comparison to convection. 88 pp. English.
