Excerpt: .to eat before she goes to bed--the other children have gone already. Then she rang a hand-bell, and when the first lady came back she said, Ask Sister Angela to come to me immediately. A few minutes later Sister Angela came into the room, and she was quite young, almost a girl, with such a sweet, sad face that I loved her instantly. This is little Mary O Neill. Take her to the refectory and give her whatever she wants, and don t leave her until she is quiet and comfortable. Very well, Mother, said Sister Angela, and taking my hand she whispered, Come Mary, you look tired. I rose to go with her, but at the same moment Father Dan rose too, and I heard him say he must lose no time in finding a hotel, for his bishop had given him only one day to remain in Rome, and he must catch an early train home the following morning. This fell on me like a thunderbolt. I hardly know what I had led myself to expect, but certainly the idea of being left alone in Rome had never once occurred to me. My little heart was fluttering, and dropping the Sister s hand I stepped back and took Father Dan s and said, You are not going to leave your little Mary are you, Father? After that Sister Angela led me, sniffling a little still, to the refectory, which was a large,...
