Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Thirteenth Annual Report, 1909 It was shown that parents were not trying hard enough to keep the children at home. More freedom in allowing the children to use the home for a gathering place should be given. It was urged that parents should help the children to form game clubs, sewing circles, cooking clubs, and reading circles, with many purely social meetings to break up the monotony. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Find more at This book is a reproduction of an important historical work.
