Excerpt from A Sermon, Preached at Christ Church, St. Giles, on the Occasion of the Annual Meeting of the Tithe Redemption Trust, June 27, 1854, by the Right Reverend the Bishop of New Zealand. Persons as well as property, are included in this general obligation. For Redemption is altogether personal. When Jesus Christ died, it was not so much that he gave something that was his own, as that he gave Himself. And the effect of his sacrifice is not so much to save anything belonging to man, as to save man himself. This personal obligation was also typified in the law of Moses (in Exodus xiii. By which all the first-born of children were required to be redeemed, in remembrance of the day when God brought Israel out of the house of bondage. Christian liberty is the exchanging the slavery of Satan for the service of Christ, as it is well explained in 1 Corinthians vii. 22: He that is called in the Lord, being a servant, is the Lords free man likewise, also, he that is called, being free, is Christs servant.
