One economist says things are great, but another says things look bleak. Regardless of the deluge of statistics and the amount of time that the media devotes to discussing the economy, most people remain bewildered by it all. Rather than informing them, it only serves to confuse them at best and mislead them at worst. How is the average person supposed to know whats really going on in the economy Wouldnt it be great if there were an easy way anyone could see how the economy was really doing Thats why the authors created the Economic Performance Index, or EPI, currently the only patented index of economic activity, that was published at the International Monetary Fund, the largest global economic policy institution in the world. It uses four macro-indicators (easily found online) that capture the broad health of nearly any economy from individual US states to regional country blocs at any point in modern history! Five years of research along with EPIs publication at the IMF gives you certainty that it will provide you with a clear, unbiased and competent understanding of the economy. Not only does The 5-Minute Economist show you how to use the Index for yourself, where you can apply it to the US economy and individual states as well as other countries, but it answers major questions that everyone wants to know: Whos better: Democrats or Republicans Is war good for the economy Is the media...
