Pennsylvania Veteran Volunteer Infantry, has been no easy task. During the almost a half century that has elapsed since the Regiment was mustered into the service, a large majority of the principal actors in the great drama enacted from 1861 to 1865. has passed from the stage of action into the great beyond. Few regiments that went out from the State of Pennsylvania had so many of their original members, seal their devotion to the Union by giving their all - their lives, the last full measure of devotion - to preserve its integrity, and to the proposition that all men arc created equal. Forty per cent of the mart and boys who accompanied the standard of the rorst Regiment to the seat of war sleep in Southern graves. Twice have the company and regimental records been entirely lost in battle, first in front of Seven Pines, early in 1862. and two years later, at Plymouth. N. C. From the capitulation of the Plymouth garrison until the war was practically ended, most of the officers of the Regiment were prisoners of war, and when they gained their freedom it was impossible for them to revive the records in complete form from memory. Neither did they realize the importance of having this well done, in order that future generations might know the part this Regiment had played in preserving this nation, a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. I would have been reluctant to have assumed the duties and responsibility...
