Forgotten Books, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Baltimore, Its Past and Present: A Souvenir of the Twenty-Seventh Convention of the United States Brewers Association George calvert, the founder of Maryland, while clerk in the Privy Council of England, became a great favorite of James I. He was knighted and raised to the Irish peerage as Baron of Baltimore, in the county of Longford, Ireland, and was known from this time forward as Sir George Calvert, first Lord Baltimore. He visited in the year 1628 the colony Virginia and received upon his return to England from his sovereign the promise of a grant of territory in the region which he had just visited, but before his Charter was signed he died, (April 18th, leaving his titles and estates to his eldest son, Cecilius Calvert, II. Lord Baltimore. On June 20th, 1632. A Charter was issued as follows All that part of the Peninsula lying in the part of America between the ocean on the east and the bay of Chesapeake on the west; divided from the residue there of by a right line drawn from the promontory or headland called Watkins Point, situated upon the bay aforesaid, on the west. Unto the main ocean on the east; and between that boundary on the south, unto that part of the bay of Delaware on the north which lieth under the fortieth degree of north latitude from the equinoctial; and passing from said bay, called Delaware Bay, in a right line by the degree aforesaid, unto the true meridian of the first fountain of the river Potomac, thence verging to wards the south, unto the farther bank of the same river. And following the same on the west and south, unto a...
