Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Views of Leading Experts on the Proposed Taxation of Land Values The proposal that Land Values should be separately assessed, and should, in one form or other, be made to bear an additional burden in connection with Local Taxation, was exhaustively considered by the Select Committee of the House of Commons on Town Holdings (1889-91) but, although rejected by them, was again brought prominently before the Royal Commission on Local Taxation (1896-1901). The Royal Commissioners, who heard a mass of evidence representative of the views amongst others of the London County Council, the Glasgow Corporation, numerous other Municipal authorities, and the Land Nationalization Society, also condemned the proposal, and in addition to pointing out its injustice, as being an attempt to impose an additional burden on a class of property which already bore more than its due share of Local Taxation, held that it was incapable of practical application without giving rise to greater inequality than at present exists. Seeing that this question of practicability or impracticability went largely to the root of the whole matter, and that, in view of the uninformed state of public opinion, great good might result from a thorough exemplification of this aspect of the question by experts, the Editors of the Property Market Review decided to take the matter up.
