Kennedy (chairman of the committee) presiding. Present: Senators Kennedy, Pell, Dodd, Simon, Wellstone, Wofford, Kassebaum, Gregg, and Durenberger. Opening Statement of Senator Kennedy The Chairman. Well come to order. This is a truly historic day to have Mrs. Gore and Senator Do-menici as our opening witnesses. It represents the best in terms of a bipartisan legislative process; two allies on an issue of extraordinary importance to the young, the middle-aged and the old alike. We want to first of all welcome Mrs. Tipper Gore to the committee. She brings a lifetime of commitment to children and mental health issues. She has been extraordinarily active on these issues for almost 20 years. In her home State of Tennessee, she provided leadership when now Vice President Gore was Congressman Gore in the House of Representatives, giving focus and attention to mental illness, primarily those issues involving children and their special needs. She did so as then Senator Gore was active in the U.S. Senate, and she has continued that commitment as the wife of the Vice President But I think those of us who know her have a very profound respect for the leadership that she is providing on one of the most important and...
