Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Skin Game: A Tragi-Comedy Hillcrist s study. A pleasant room, with books in calf bindings, and signs that the Hillcrist have travelled, such as a large photograph of the Taj Mahal, of Table Mountain, and the Pyramids of Egypt. A large bureau [stage Right], devoted to the business of a country estate. Two foxes masks. Flowers in bowls. Deep armchairs. A large French window open [at Back], with a lovely view of a slight rise of fields and trees in August sunlight. A fine stone fireplace [stage Left], A door [Left], A door opposite [Right]. General colour effect - stone, and cigar-leaf brown, with spots of bright colour. [Hillcrist sits in a swivel chair at the bureau, busy with papers. He has gout, and his left foot is encased accordingly. He is a thin, dried-up man of about fifty-five, with a rather refined, rather kindly, and rather cranky countenance. Close to him stands his very upstanding nineteen-year-old daughter Jill, with clubbed hair round a pretty, manly face.] Jill. You know, Dodo, it s all pretty...
