Excerpt from Biographical Record of the Class of 1842 of Yale College: Prepared and Printed for the Members of the Class Dear Classmates: - In accordance with the vote unanimously passed at the 35th Anniversary Meeting of the Class of 1842, requesting the undersigned to prepare and print a new Biographical Record of the Class - one that should give as full and complete biographical sketches of the deceased members as could well be obtained, and at the same time present its living members, in their several professions, pursuits, business avocations and official stations, familiarly before the Class for recognition - he respectfully reports that he has attended to the duty assigned him with as much expedition as he could well use and as much success as he could reasonably have expected, considering all the disadvantages and discouragements that confronted him at the outset of the undertaking. It was stated, at the meeting referred to, that Mrs. Professor Hadley (then and still in Europe) had been unable to find among her late husband's papers any Class notes not embraced in...
