

La Charca (Paperback)

By Zeno manuel Gandia

STOCKCERO, Argentina, 2005. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: Spanish . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . The double condition of Manuel Zeno Gandia -as medical doctor and politician- joins the writer s to transform the drama in La Charca into a deep reflection upon the evils that still nowadays harm the Latin American societies in general, and Puerto Rico in particular. Within the Cronicas de un mundo enfermo series, La charca (1894) is the best from a literary standpoint. As the reader delves into the plot the depiction of the labourers life, tersely exposed and without panphletary adjectivations, stands out as a stern denunciation. The discussions between the cult and freethinking Juan del Salto and his friends -doctor Pintado and the religious P. Esteban-contrast with the outcome and become a loud call of attention cast at the cultivated class that, having wasted decades in the discussion of social improvement theories, proved themselves incapable of building a legal and political framework to humanize the lives of the dispossessed and foster among them the practices to induce their growth out of poverty. Zeno Gandia, as Balzac and Perez Galdos, initiates in La Charca a narrative universe with archetypical characters that...
