

DOWNLOAD

Informal Institutions and Citizenship in Rural Africa: Risk and Reciprocity in Ghana and Côte d'Ivoire

By Lauren M. MacLean

Cambridge University Press. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 314 pages. Dimensions: 9.1in. x 6.1in. x 0.6in. This book challenges previous assumptions about institutions, social capital, and the nature of the African state by investigating the history of political and economic change in villages on either side of the Ghana-Côte d'Ivoire border. Prior to European colonial rule, these Akan villages had very similar political and cultural institutions. By the late 1990s, however, Lauren M. MacLean found puzzling differences in the informal institutions of reciprocity and indigenous notions of citizenship. Drawing on extensive village-based fieldwork and archival research, MacLean argues that divergent histories of state formation not only shape how villagers help each other but also influence how local groups and communities define citizenship and then choose to engage with the state on an everyday basis. She examines the historical construction of the state role in mediating risk at the local level across three policy areas: political administration, social service delivery, and agriculture, highlighting the importance of the colonial and post-colonial state in transforming informal institutions. This item ships from multiple locations. Your book may arrive from Roseburg,OR, La Vergne,TN. Paperback.

READ ONLINE
[5.37 MB]

Reviews

It is a of my personal favorite pdf. Of course, it really is play, nevertheless an amazing and interesting literature. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

-- Nicholas Ratke

This is actually the finest ebook we have go through until now. It is writer in straightforward words and phrases instead of difficult to understand. Its been designed in an remarkably straightforward way and is particularly just following i finished reading through this book by which basically changed me, change the way in my opinion.

-- Gillian Wisoky